Nationwide: Domestic Abuse Safety Planning*

Description of Program and Relief

The Jewish Coalition Against Domestic Abuse is operating a free and confidential helpline during business hours where callers can receive information, support, and safety planning for those at risk for domestic abuse during a COVID-19 quarantine. Callers can be either victims or survivors of power-based violence seeking support for themselves, witnesses to power-based violence, or individuals concerned about someone in their lives who may be experiencing power-based violence.
